Lord Jesus Christ

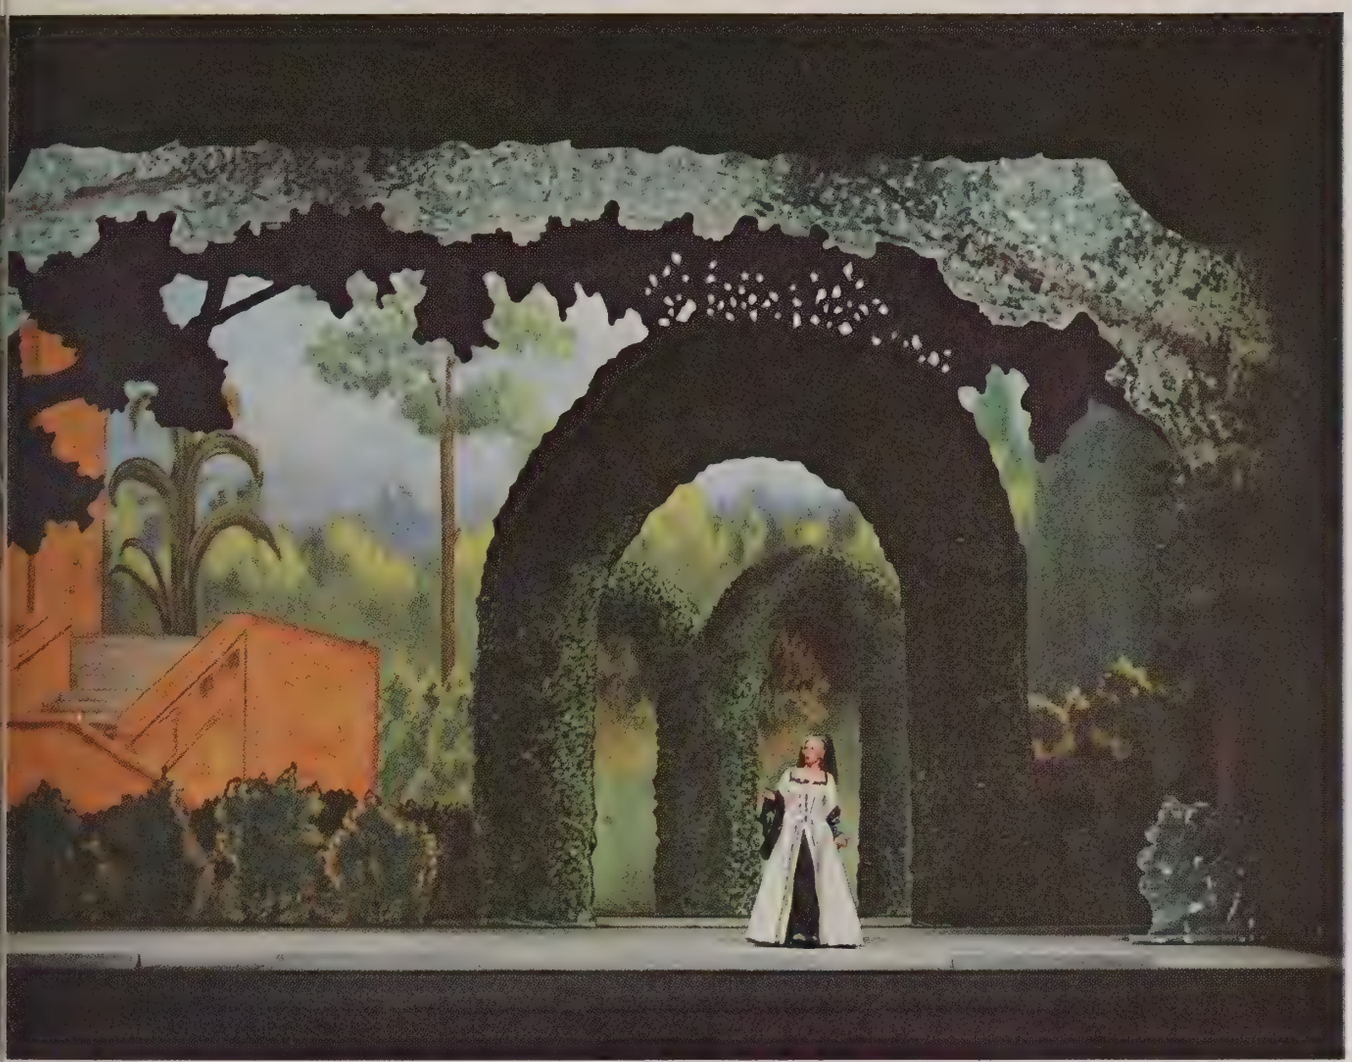

MAKE a joyful noise unto the Lord, all ye lands. Serve the Lord with gladness: come before his presence with singing.

Know ye that the Lord he is God: it is he that hath made us, and not we ourselves; we are his people, and the sheep of his pasture.

Enter into his gates with thanksgiving, and into his courts with praise: be thankful unto him, and bless his name.

For the Lord is good; his mercy is everlasting; and his truth endureth to all generations.

the Alumni

Through the years the Alumni of Bob Jones University have upheld the standards of our school at home and abroad and have maintained an uncompromising testimony for Christ around the world. Wherever they go, whatever they do, they are happy, enthusiastic, and dependable. Their lives display the result of excellent training and contain an element of inspiration not gleaned from books. Their unwavering faith, loyal devotion to the Gospel, and constant determination to go forward for God have been a blessing to students who follow, and a source of thanksgiving to the faculty who helped mold their lives. It is to these members of our University family—the Alumni—that we lovingly dedicate THE VINTAGE of 1950.

"The Lord has promised good to me:
His word my hope secures;
He will my shield and portion be
As long as life endures.

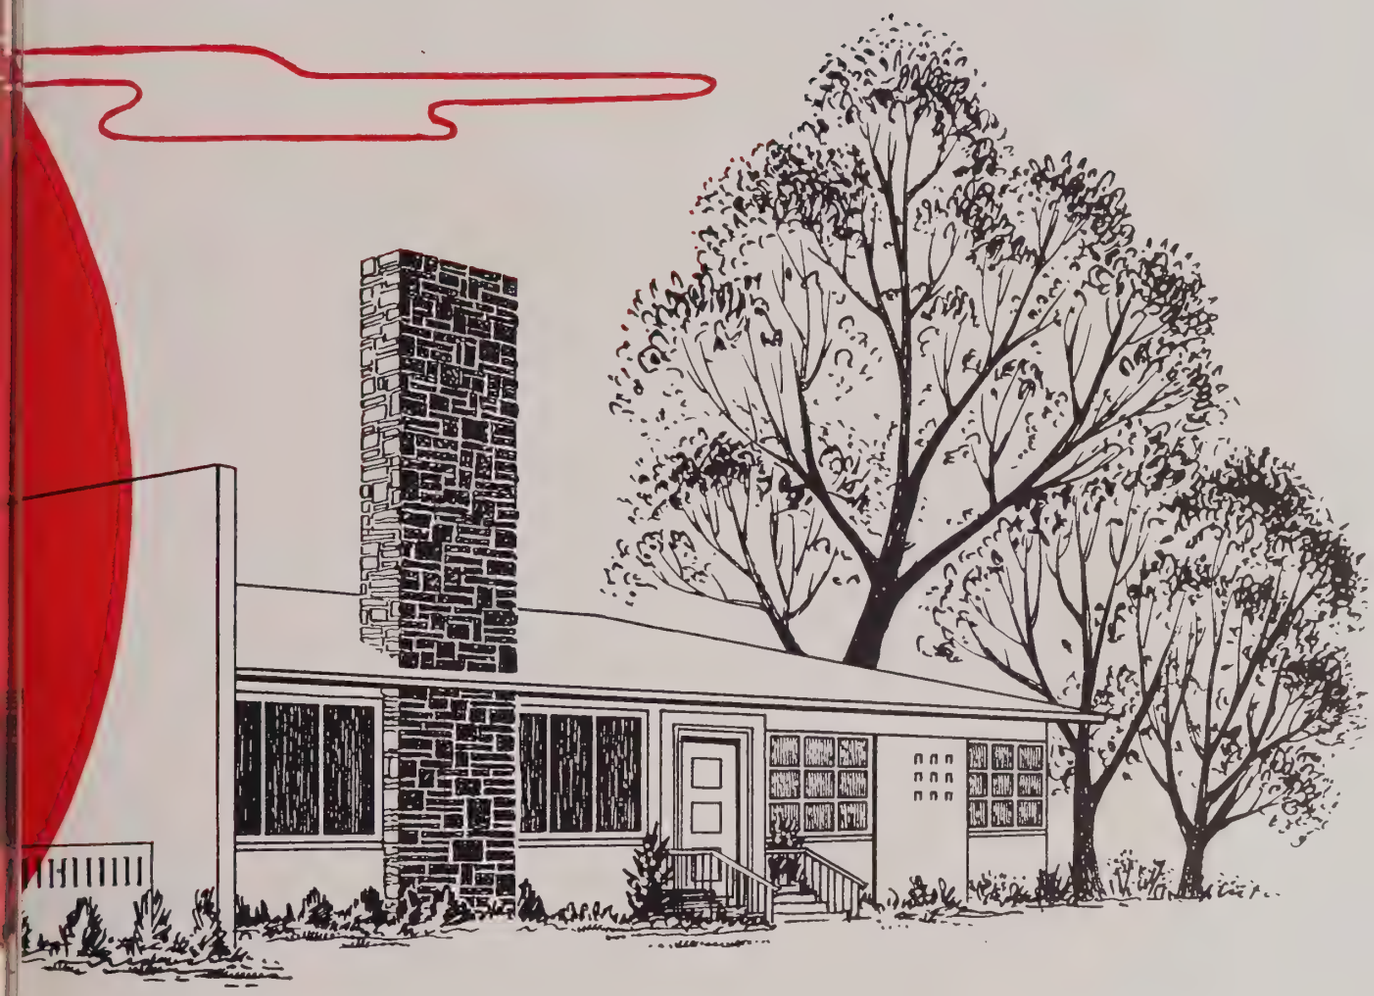

And when this flesh and heart shall fail,
And mortal life shall cease,
I shall possess within the veil
A life of joy and peace."

—John Newton

University Family

DR. BOB JONES, JR., JON, JOY, MRS. JONES, AND BOBBY, III

the Joneses, first family of the Words hardly express our love and esteem for the Joneses. Dr. Bob, Sr., founder and for many years president of Bob Jones College, has won the hearts of the student body through his practical philosophy and steadfast Christian testimony. Building character has been his theme through the years, and his chapel talks and proverbial sayings have composed the spiritual keynote of our University life. Dr. Bob, Jr., who is now president of the University, has emphasized by his own life the importance of Christian culture. The vivid pictures which he paints from the chapel platform, with his straight-forward evangelistic fervor, have made a deep impression on our hearts and minds. We deeply appreciate the lives and testimonies of both our founder and president and their wives, who have faithfully and patiently worked and prayed in God's strength to make this University a base of evangelical Christian testimony and learning.

WOMEN OF LETTERS

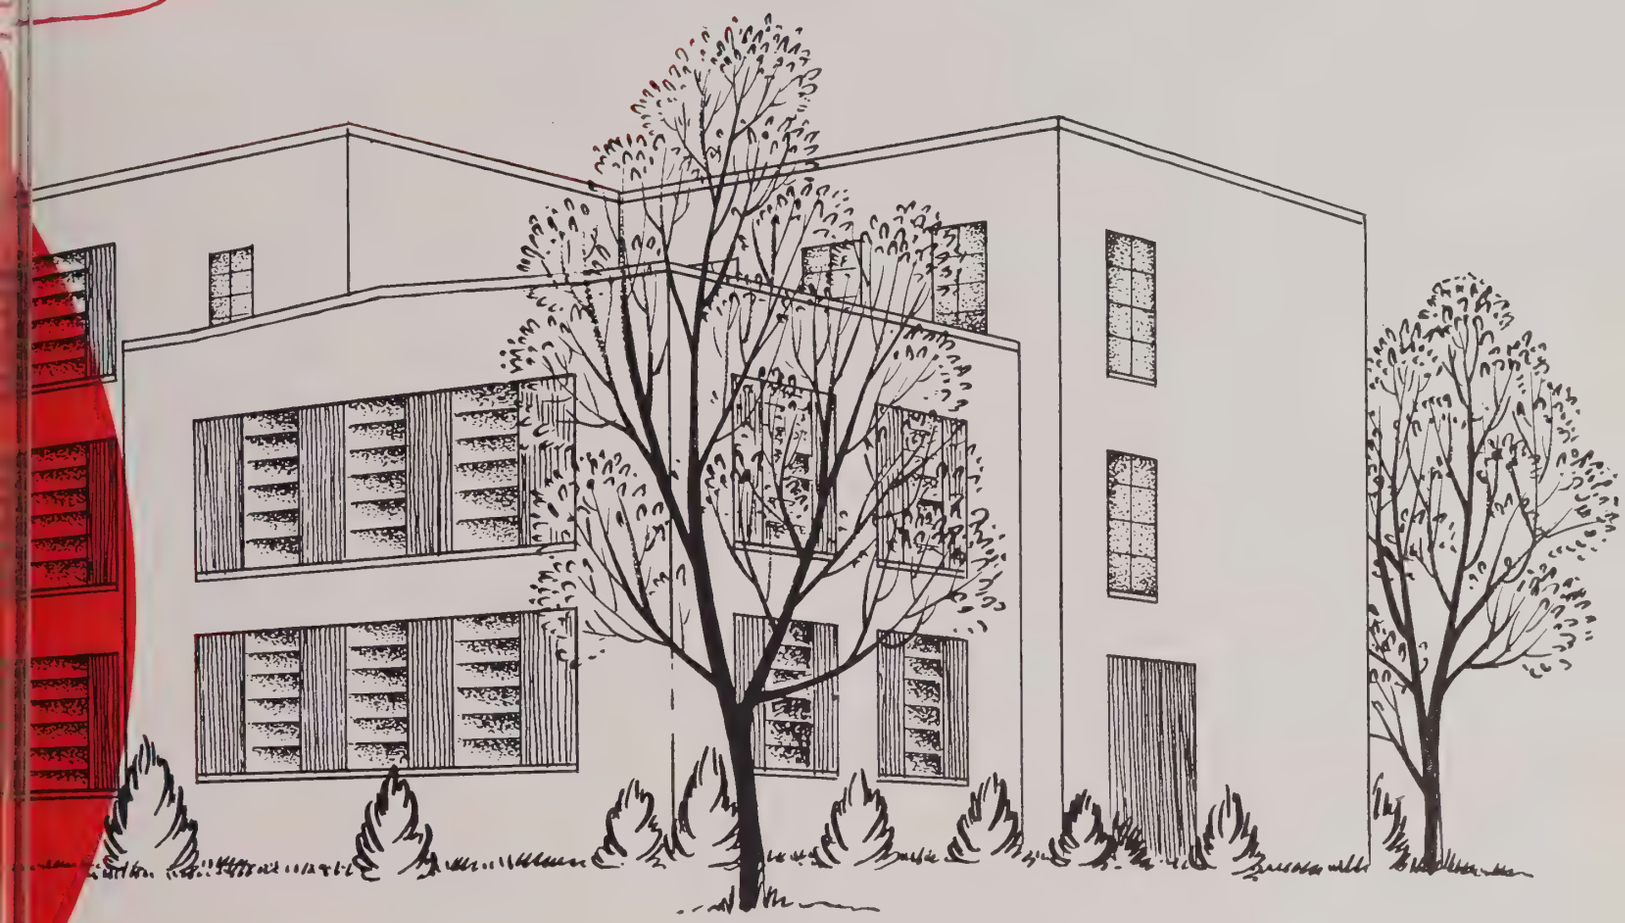

"Faith of our fathers! living still
In spite of dungeon, fire and sword;
O how our hearts beat high with joy
Whene'er we hear that glorious word!

Faith of our fathers! we will love
Both friend and foe in all our strife;
And preach thee too, as love knows how,
By kindly words and virtuous life."

—Frederick W. Faber

"Study to shew thyself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, rightly dividing the word of truth."

EXTENSION

Daily, girls may be seen boarding the Greenville bus with Bibles, flannelgraph, and other child evangelism materials; on the weekends, hundreds of the ministerial students leave for pastorates or scheduled meetings. These activities are coordinated by the Extension Department. Directed by Dr. Gilbert Stenholm, this prodigious work governs all off-campus activities. Results of meetings are accurately recorded by Emogene Cochran.

She pigeon-holes everything

DISCIPLINE COMMITTEE

Enter the King

Familiar to every student, yet dearly loved by few, is the Discipline Committee. Such things as being late to meals or failing to pass room inspection mean demerits, and the Discipline Committee metes these out. Composed of two of the deans or dormitory supervisors and two student representatives from the Pan-Hellenic Council, this Committee meets daily to accommodate all.

Exit the Knave

THE CHAPEL HOUR

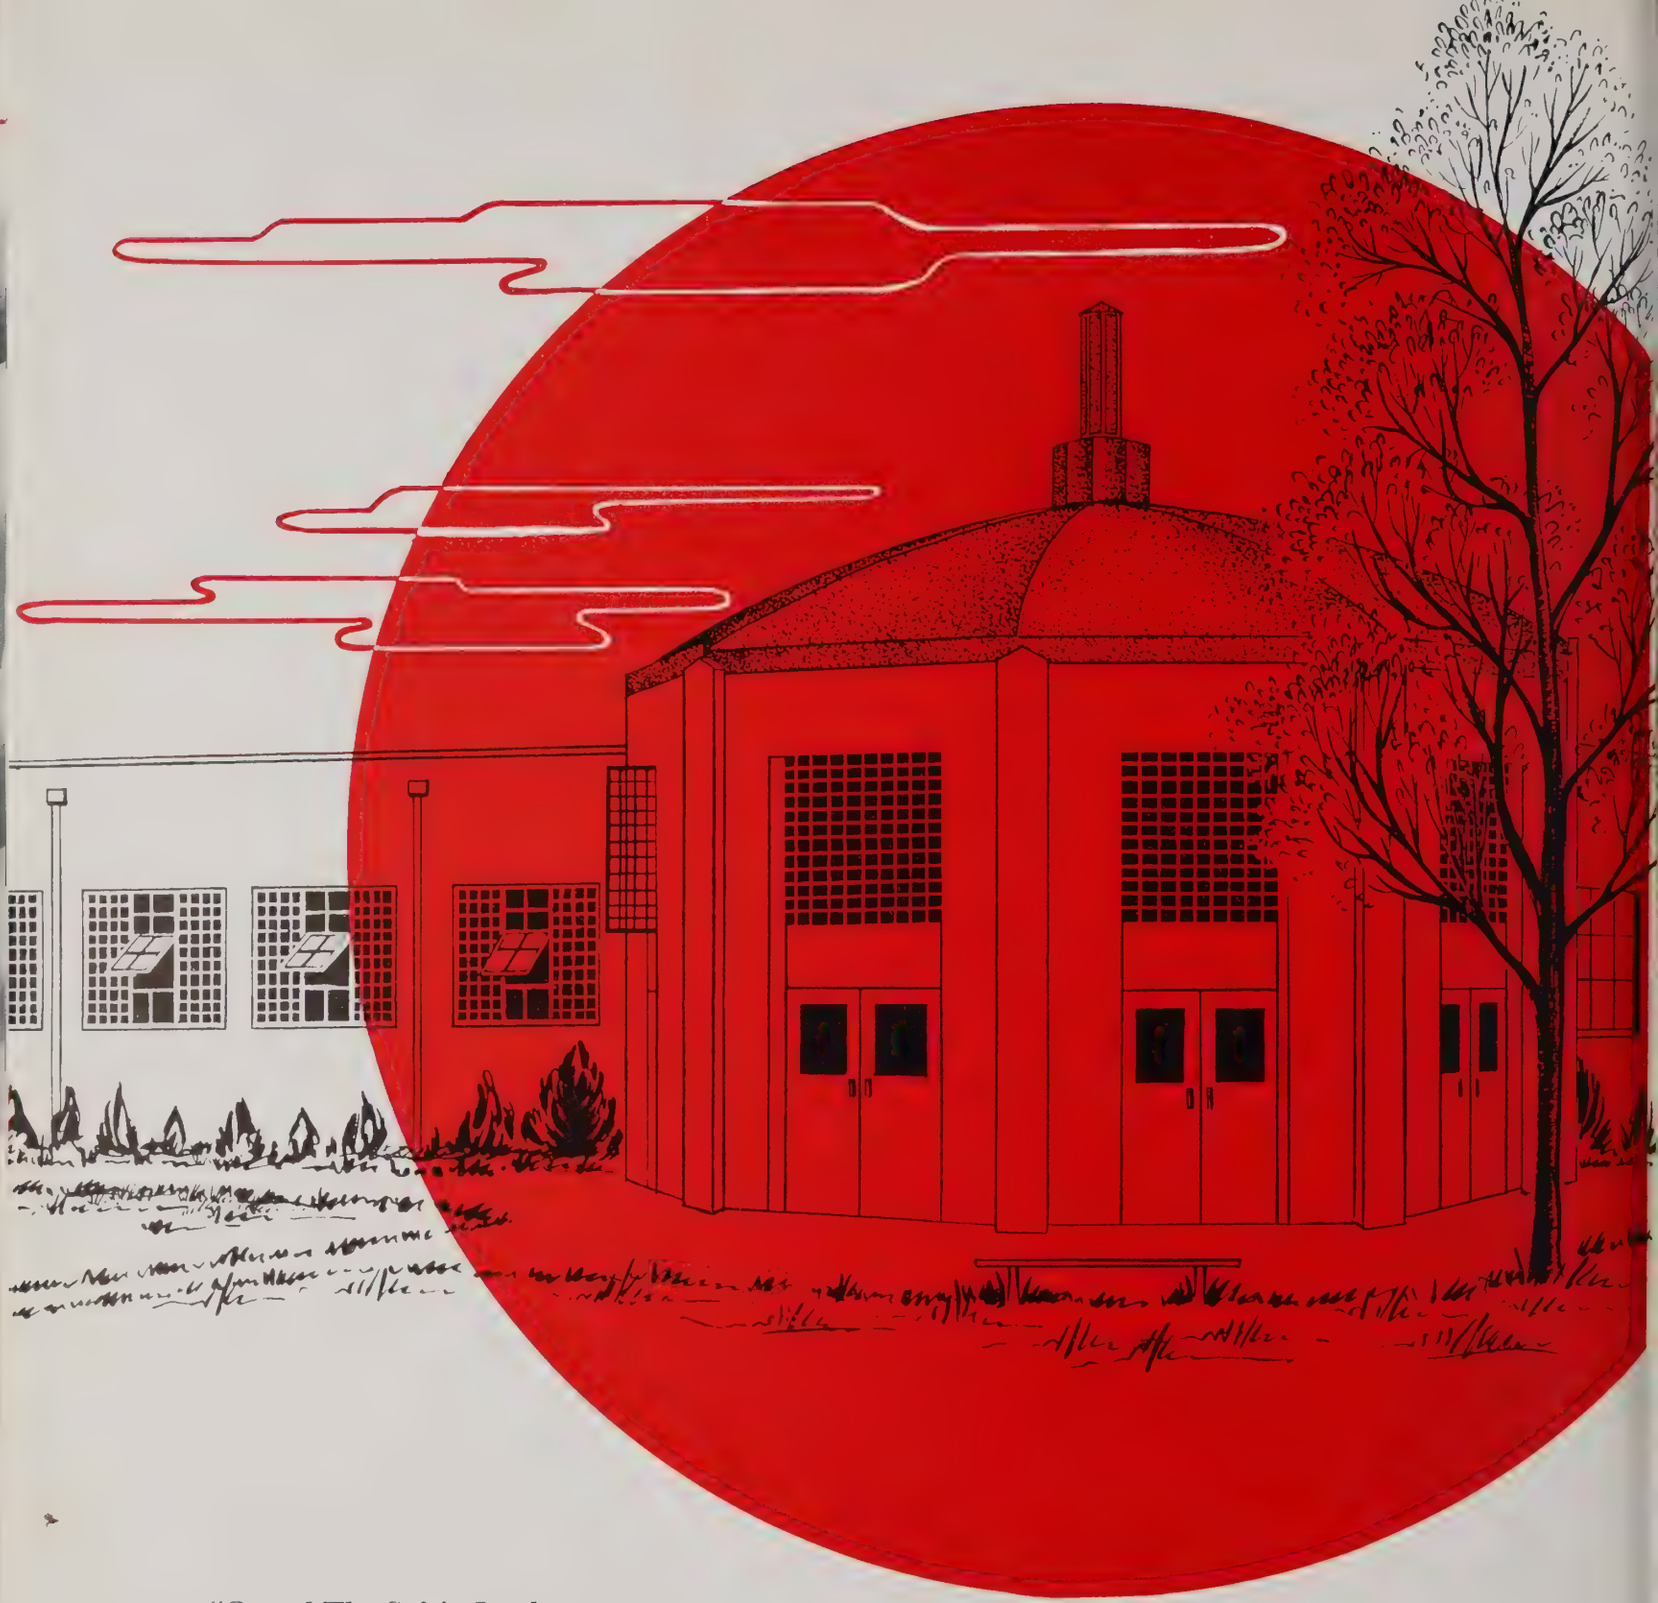

Believing that the way to keep the spiritual tenor of the school on a high plane is "to keep the platform hot," Bob Jones University endeavors to present to the students a wide variety of speakers. Outstanding evangelists, such as Billy Graham; workers, such as Dr. Ernest Reveal of the Evansville City Rescue Mission; and Christian educators, such as Dr. Robert McQuilkin of Columbia Bible College, help to give to the students a feeling of personal relationship with important personages and events of the Christian world. Favorites with the students are, however, the inspirational messages of our president and the practical Christian philosophy of our founder.

Mr. Hoover, Dr. Schaper, Dr. Robert McQuilkin

Seated: Dr. Ernest Reveal. Standing Right: Dr. Bob Jones, Jr.

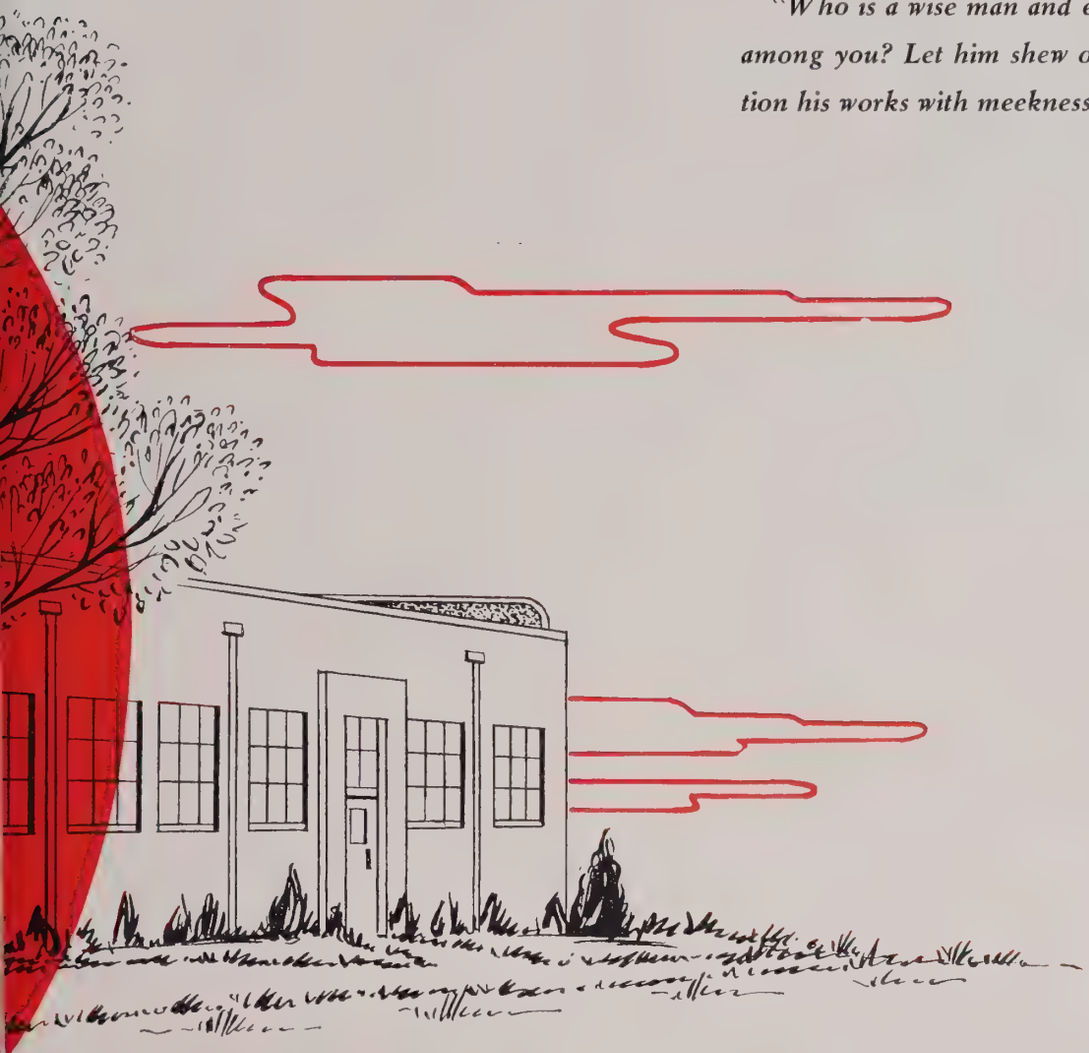

"O send Thy Spirit, Lord, now unto me,
That He may touch my eyes, and make me see:
Show me the truth concealed within Thy Word,
And in Thy book revealed I see the Lord.

Thou art the bread of life, O Lord, to me,
Thy holy Word the truth that saveth me;
Give me to eat and live with Thee above;
Teach me to love Thy truth, for Thou art love."

—Mary Ann Lathbury

"Who is a wise man and endued with knowledge among you? Let him shew out of a good conversation his works with meekness of wisdom."

LIBRARY

Competence is pre-requisite in a library servicing daily a university student body; the forty-seven staff members, supervised by Miss Bald, provide the efficiency necessary. A large number of the thirty-one thousand volumes in the Mack Library are in the field of religion. Because of the cultural emphasis of the institution, a great many literature and music books are made available to the students. The collections of Shakespearean reference books and of record albums are particularly extensive.

BOWEN BIBLICAL MUSEUM

An authentic reproduction of the civilization and culture of Bible lands may be seen in the Bowen Biblical Museum. Generously contributed to the University by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bowen, the museum contains an extensive collection of valuable Oriental antiquities. A recent addition to the museum is an Egyptian mummy; several tons of new equipment are enroute from New York. Visitors and students obtain here a better understanding of Biblical times and customs.

TREES

I think that I shall never see

A poem lovely as a tree.

A tree whose hungry mouth is prest

Against the earth's sweet flowing breast;

A tree that looks at God all day,

And lifts her leafy arms to pray;

A tree that may in Summer wear

A nest of robins in her hair;

Upon whose bosom snow has lain;

Who intimately lives with rain.

Poems are made by fools like me,

But only God can make a tree.

Opera

E R

Verdi's tuneful and dramatic opera Ernani received its second performance in the United States in the past twenty years by the Bob Jones University Opera Association. In part the production proposed a renewal of interest in this early work of a great composer. The opera, abounding in beautiful and stirring melodies, is closely integrated. This artistry is revealed as the somber theme of the death horn summoning Ernani to death is foreshadowed in the orchestral prelude. The two great concerted pieces in Ernani—Carlos discovered courting Elvira and the Cathedral of Aix-la-Chapelle—have been perhaps equalled, by Verdi, but hardly excelled.

E R N A N I

The cast was headed by Anna Turkel, soprano; Norman Atkins, baritone; Norman Scott, bass; and Ralph Lear, tenor—all of leading opera companies. The talents of these acclaimed artists were assisted by the University chorus and orchestra under the direction of Mr. Herbert Hoover. Impressive costumes and magnificent sets, created by our University Productions Department, enhanced the beauty and strength of the performance. Accurate timing and efficient staging lent the professional quality rarely attained in college productions.

Drama

JULIUS

The Classic Players, one of America's finest dramatic repertoire groups, has produced nearly all the well-known Shakespearean plays and has revived others which have not been performed in America for many years. This outstanding non-professional group is open to students displaying talent in public try-outs. Many ministerial students acquire through this training platform personality and audience control. Julius Caesar, superbly directed by Mrs. Elizabeth Edwards, was performed by the Classic Players for the first time in eleven years. This play is perhaps as perfect a work as the dramatist's art is capable of producing. Caesar's funeral, with its oratory and tumult, and the dispute between Brutus and Cassius in the tent are unforgettable. In these grand displays of eloquence and passion Shakespeare produced scenes that he himself has never surpassed. Those who played the parts could realize the full import of the words they said in Act III, Scene I:

CAESAR

"How many ages hence shall this our lofty scene be acted over in states unborn and accents yet unknown."

Caesar, returning home from a successful campaign in Spain, is offered the crown by Mark Antony. A conspiracy arises among those who mistrust his ambition. Two of the notable conspirators, Cassius and Casca, win over Brutus, who has been a friend of Caesar's but who joins them from a sense of duty to the republic. Antony, Caesar's friend, stirs the people to fury against the conspirators by a skillful speech at Caesar's funeral. Two factions arise: the triumvirs, including Antony, who plan to revenge Caesar's death; and the forces raised by Brutus and Cassius. The latter quarrel and are reconciled; Caesar's ghost appears to Brutus and tells him, "Thou shalt see me at Philippi!" The armies meet at Philippi; Brutus and Cassius are doomed; both kill themselves. The triumvirate is victorious, and Caesar is avenged.

VESPERS

Justly deserving its standing as the best-known and best-loved religious service on campus, the Sunday afternoon Vesper program has long been a distinctive Bob Jones University feature. The program consists of an artistic arrangement of music and speech numbers around a central theme. Themes are usually religious and thus provide a program which is spiritually, as well as culturally, effective. The responsibility for developing the theme by securing and arranging the selections and preparing them for presentation belongs to members of the speech and music faculty. Dramatic readings are interspersed with vocal and instrumental ensembles and solos. Often books from the Bible are dramatized in full length. With the different holidays come the seasonal Vespers. Culminating the Vesper programs for the school year is the Baccalaureate Sunday request Vespers. Students, faculty members, and frequent visitors submit the names of favorite selections. Those most often requested are arranged together and presented as the annual request Vespers.

The euphony of the performance is not the only unique feature of the Vesper programs; unusual lighting, curtains, and stage props combine to make a program beautiful to see. Because of the symmetry, color, and lighting effects, Vespers has been suggested as being particularly adaptable for television. The talents of both students and faculty members are utilized to give Vespers the professional quality so outstanding to it.

With this unusual opportunity for public performance, students develop poise, platform personality, and audience control through participation on the weekly programs. Vespers is profitable not only to members of the student body attending every week, but also to visitors, many of whom are residents of Greenville and nearby towns and who attend the programs regularly.

ORCHESTRATIONS

One of the requisites for a B.A. degree in Sacred Music is the writing of an orchestration. The best of these submitted by the senior majors are used to culminate some of the Vesper programs. The orchestrations are choral and orchestral variations on a hymn. This year the three performed were "Crown Him with Many Crowns," arranged by Steve Taylor; "Jesus, Lover of My Soul," arranged by Ruth Reynolds; and "All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name," arranged by Harold Newberry. The Baccalaureate Sunday Vespers usually presents for the finale the outstanding orchestration of the year.

MESSIAH

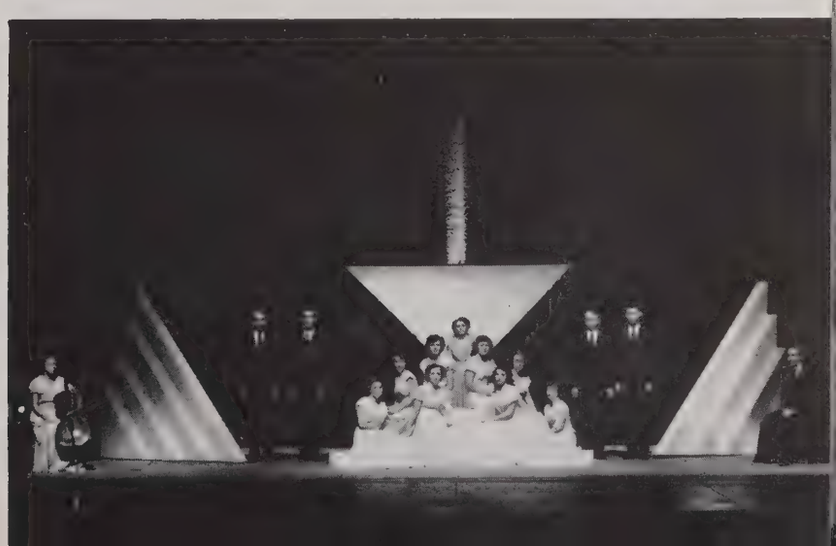

A presentation by the University Oratorio Society during the pre-Christmas festival this year was Handel's Messiah. The solo parts were sung with conviction and understanding by members of the student body and faculty. The solosists were Miss Joan Hamm, soprano; Miss Joy Tooze, mezzo-soprano; Mr. Vaughn Sprunger, tenor; and Mr. James Ryerson, baritone. The chorus of one hundred and eighty voices was directed by Maestro Heyward Wong of the University music faculty. This excellent performance attracted many visitors from Greenville and surrounding territory.

RADIO STATION

On September 15, 1949, another channel for Christian testimony was opened to Bob Jones University through our new radio station, WMUU. Broadcasting daily "from sun-up to sun-down," it presents a wide variety of spiritual, educational, and cultural programs. Though only a new station, WMUU airs programs of a professional quality; and the technical achievements rank with those of veteran stations. This within itself bears definite proof of the recognition and approval of God upon Bob Jones University's newest testimony for Christ. We proudly introduce the voice of the World's Most Unusual University—WMUU.

It's new . . . it's modern . . . it's ours

At the cost of seventy-five thousand dollars, the building and equipment of WMUU represent the best in architectural design and technical radio achievement. This compact building of control rooms, studios, a music library, news rooms, and offices is completely constructed along modern lines. Because some of our programs are carried by other stations, extensive recording equipment is necessary. The double unit tape recorder and the acetate or disc recording facilities are used to service these stations. The tape recorder also makes possible a program of uninterrupted recorded music. Unusual for a small station is WMUU's large sound effects library; another exceptional feature is the echo chamber. The inter-communication network makes possible the contact from any part of the station to any other. Operating on one thousand watts and 1260 kilocycles, WMUU was designed for a signal strength of sixty miles; yet it is clearly received in many places over a hundred miles from the campus. Script-writing, producing, and performing are done by students guided by the expert staff. Because very few of the WMUU programs use recorded music, the students are provided much opportunity for experience in radio.

JAMES RYERSON
Manager

The task of managing WMUU's new station falls into the hands of Mr. James Ryerson. Overseeing the entire broadcasting unit with all its various activities involves attention to a multitude of details. To secure the maximum of precision, essential in radio work, the manager must take the responsibility for coordinating the various parts into one perfectly controlled whole. Both the planning and presentation of the programs are investigated carefully to see that everything on the air is in line with the policies of the school. Consideration of ideas for new programs and care of the station's voluminous correspondence are also responsibilities of the manager. Mr. Ryerson, however, finds time along with his executive duties to take part himself in some of the productions.

Radio Staff: From sun up 'till sundown, they deliver the best.

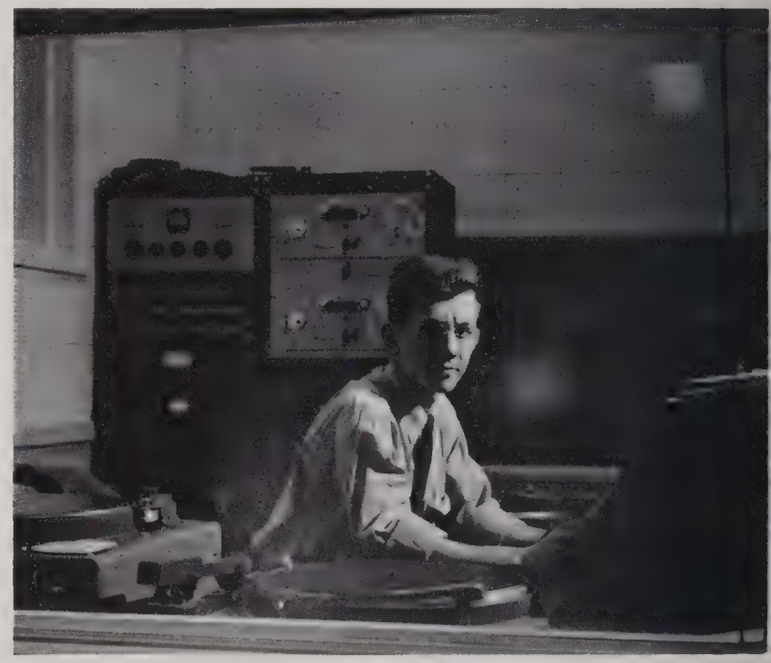

In and out—"Over the Back Fence"

W. M. U. U.

Everyone who has visited a radio station sometime realizes that the "man in the glass case" is very important, but few understand the complexity of his task or the combination of qualifications necessary for such a position. A production engineer must have perfect control at all times—both over himself and everything that he touches. An unexcitable nature is indispensable; in addition he must be alert, agile, and able to do several things at once. By listening to the sound of the programs, he is able to make sure the music and voices are properly blended.

Casting

W. M. U. U.

News "every hour on the hour" is the policy of WMUU. The news for the five-minute broadcasts is received from the International News Service teletype machine and is edited by the WMUU newsmen. In an attempt to give to the radio audience a varied type of newscast program, the announcers present the up-to-the-minute events in a conversational tone of voice and an informal and interesting manner.

Among the many programs presented on WMUU are two favorites: "Over the Back Fence" and "Swiss Family Robinson." "Over the Back Fence" is written by a student staff and is produced by Julie Allen, who is one of the three characters. Every afternoon Julie meets her friends, Rebecca Goldstein and Hortense Smythe, over the back fence. Topics for discussion range from the new neighbors down the street to the latest fashions and rules of etiquette. Homemakers gain many helpful household hints, and the hilarious dialogue affords much amusement for listeners. "Swiss Family Robinson," the only serial program produced by WMUU, is based on the novel by the same name. Written by Eva Carrier, the five-day program is produced by Mrs. Gilbert Stenholm. The day-by-day episodes of venturesome family life are designed to appeal to all ages.

"True-hearted, whole-hearted, fullest allegiance
Yielding henceforth to our glorious King;
Valiant endeavor and loving obedience,
Freely and joyously now would we bring.

True-hearted, whole-hearted, Savior all-glorious!
Take Thy great power and reign there alone,
Over our wills and affections victorious,
Freely surrendered and wholly Thine own."

Give of your best to the Master; give of the strength of your youth;
Throw your soul's fresh, glowing ardor into the battle for truth.
Jesus has set the example; dauntless was He, young and brave;
Give Him your loyal devotion, give Him the best that you have.

Give of your best to the Master; naught else is worthy His love;
He gave Himself for your ransom, gave up His glory above:
Laid down His life without murmur, you from sin's ruin to save;
Give Him your heart's adoration, give Him the best that you have.

—H. B. G.

The president and vice-president of each of the thirty-two literary societies compose the governing student body organization: the Pan-Hellenic Council. Convening every Saturday morning, the Council directs the plans of the individual societies and determines the program of social activities of the campus as a whole. Members of the Council act as student representatives for all sessions of the Discipline Committee. Each semester the Council contributes to the school a project by which it is remembered. Promotion of society spirit and equalization of society activities are the chief goals of the Pan-Hellenic Council.

Many Council projects have become traditional. The year for Pan-Hellenic begins several days before the formal opening, when the group prepares to greet each new student arriving on campus. Before Rush Week can begin, rules and regulations must be formulated. Special days, such as Thanksgiving and Christmas, are important in the life of Pan-Hellenic; these holidays add the responsibility of campus decorations. No semester is complete without a Council-sponsored B.J.U. Day. The Annual Outings, high light of society life, are regulated completely by Pan-Hellenic.

Over a thousand young men at Bob Jones University, studying for the ministry, receive inspiration and practical instruction from Dr. Bob Jones, Sr., and other outstanding preachers of America. The evangelistic emphasis coupled with the sensible approach produces a balance of zeal and intellect which makes every preacher boy a soul-winner.

Challenged by the millions who have never heard of God's love, many students meet each morning to pray especially for workers on mission fields all over the world.

Missionary speakers and the Mission Prayer Band paper Beyond stir the hearts of the students to prayer and service. Through Mission Prayer Band many have heard the cry of the lost and have pledged themselves to follow that cry to the ends of the earth.

The wives of our ministerial students are an integral part of our campus family, but have not until recently been recognized as an organization. Conscious of the need for further knowledge of the responsibilities of a preacher's wife, this group of young women has organized the Preachers' Wives Auxiliary. Discussion of pertinent problems, instruction by competent speakers, and inspiration for seemingly mundane duties which must be faced are the gist of the weekly meetings. Aware that every task counts greatly in the sight of God, each is resolved to accept her responsibility as the companion for a minister of the Gospel.

Child Evangelism classes, cottage prayer meetings, jail services, and hospital visitation provide opportunities for the young women of Life Service Band to tell others that "Jesus Saves." In the weekly classroom meetings the members receive practical instruction concerning problems which they will meet in Christian service. Guided by Dr. Gilbert Stenholm, Director of Extension, Life Service Band is pioneering for Christ in areas where He is not yet known.

A typical children's meeting opens with enthusiastic group singing. Choruses with accompanying motions are favorites. An object lesson brings the gospel story in a brief but vivid fashion. After a memory verse, a lesson is taught from the Bible, and the meeting usually ends with a simple appeal for the child to accept Christ.

CHURCH CHOIRS

One of the oldest organizations on campus is the University choir, directed by Mr. Karl Keefer. Lending dignity and inspiration, it is a vital part of the Sunday morning worship service. Divided into two groups, each of sixteen members, our choirs alternate in presenting the anthems and solos each week.

This organization joins with other musical groups on campus in presenting the annual pre-Christmas and Easter concerts. Leading the academic procession and singing for the commencement exercises climax its activities for the year.

Keeping in mind the spiritual needs of others these choirs present the best in sacred music.

TABERNACLE CHOIR

Fifty voices blending in the familiar strains of "Amazing Grace" welcome radio listeners each Monday evening to the Tabernacle Hour. Dr. Schaper, Director of Religious Activities, announces the program as the choir hums in the background. Three or four gospel songs of an evangelistic nature follow. Mrs. Holmes of the piano faculty and Miss Alice Mercer at the organ provide a continuous musical background. Following the evening solo, Dr. Schaper or the guest chapel speaker preaches the message. The Tabernacle Choir, directed by Mr. Ogden of the University music faculty, has recorded many invitation hymns, which are used at the conclusion of the program. The wide-spread influence of the Tabernacle Hour is attested by the amount of correspondence received daily.

O R C H E S T R A

Skillfully performing the difficult orchestral score for Verdi's Ernani and Puccini's Gianni Skichi, our University orchestra once more impressed us with its ability to produce operatic works effectively. It is this which has elicited from the guest artists high commendation for its sensitive accompaniments. Conducted by Maestros Herbert Hoover and Heyward Wong, this group is a tribute to our school. Participation in the orchestra offers to capable students opportunities for developing instrumental proficiency and obtaining poise through experience.

One of the student organizations which foster much of the school spirit is the University Band. Each student body meeting begins with a stirring group of favorite collegiate marches. Student directed, it gives to participants occasion to acquire proficiency while providing pleasure for others.

Bob Jones University is interdenominational; however, meetings within the various denominations are encouraged. Each group has its own Sunday school class and young peoples' organization. Most of the fifty-four denominations on campus have a representation large enough for a class of their own. Those who find very few students of their own denomination are combined into the Non-Sectarian Class. The lesson each week is taught by one of the ministerial students; this provides for the young preachers opportunity for public speaking. Elected as student body officers are the two Sunday school secretaries. The tasks of collecting the Sunday school offerings and averaging the class attendances rest upon them.

The Bob Jones University Chapter of the Future Teachers of America, affiliated with the National Education Association and the South Carolina Education Association, was first formed at Cleveland, Tennessee, in 1940. Composed of students who plan to enter the teaching profession, this rapidly growing organization convenes twice monthly for panel discussions, reports, and investigation of problems faced in actual classroom work. Educators and other outside speakers are frequently invited to discuss opportunities and the most recent teaching methods. Advised by Miss Nina Nelson and Dean Laird Lewis, the group places special emphasis on the high calling of Christian education.

FLIGHT SCHOOL

Comparatively new to our University academic curriculum is the Flight School; despite its brief existence the school offers to prospective pilots complete flight training. Controlled by Civil Aeronautics Association stipulations, the course includes basic ground school and practice in actual flying. Because of the particular adaptation of the course to missionary service, many of the sixty-five students registered in the school plan to utilize their training on the foreign field.

DEBATE

The Debate question, "Should the United States adopt a policy of socialized medicine?" stimulated much literary society competition this year. The very spirited clashes between the thirty-two teams were efficiently judged by Dr. Miriam Bonner and members of the speech faculty. Participants are well repaid, for the time spent in research, by practice in logical thinking and in the art of argumentation.

ENSEMBLES

Because many church groups and summer conferences request musical groups, the Bob Jones University Fine Arts Department forms three ensembles. The United States is divided into three sections and one ensemble tours each. Programs of sacred and classical music coupled with the Gospel message are presented nightly during the summer months. The school sponsors banquets every summer in various parts of the country; students, former students, alumni, and friends interested in the University attend these. The ensembles plan their itinerary in order to be present at the banquets. Next summer, three groups—a brass ensemble, a vocal ensemble, and a male quartet—will represent the University and carry the Gospel over the country.

OUR FAVORITE FRIENDS

The hustle and bustle of the Dining Common is familiar to every member of the University. Supervised by Miss Marguerite Hovis and Mrs. Ben Ciliberto, the waiters and waitresses have the monumental task of feeding three thousand people daily. Fewer crashes of the china are the result of the stress on economy and efficiency. As the waiters and waitresses graduate each year, many of them testify that working in the Dining Common taught them consideration and dependability. Promptness and speed are achieved by the servers as they fill the bowls and load the trays for the waiters. In case of mishaps in the Dining Common, one of the alert hostesses assigned to each section is present to remedy the situation. Their duties may vary from mopping up spilled water to seating visitors. Credit for planning the nutritious menus goes to our dieticians, Miss Julia Felder and Miss Anne Mitchell. We extend our appreciation to these, our favorite friends, for keeping the University family happy and well-fed; thus they prove the adage that "the way to the heart is through the stomach."

COSTUME DEPARTMENT

The creative ability of the costume department is the basis for much of the success of our University productions. Supervised by Miss Thais Livingston, the seamstresses work constantly to provide the magnificent costumes which help make our plays and operas memorable.

Months before each production, work in the Costume Room begins. Careful study is made of the modes of dress in the period of the production. To be authentic, the costumes must be closely copied in fabric and design from period models. Patterns are cut from these designs and filed for future use. Only then does the actual construction begin: sometimes several weeks are required to complete a more elaborate robe or gown. The artists, amazed by the quality and beauty of the costumes, often request to buy those they wear in the performances. In the costume rooms are stored over three thousand pieces.

Costuming the cast is only one of the roles this department assumes. It is also responsible for much of the construction of stage flaps, scenic drops, and curtains. Additional tasks are those of making and caring for the choir robes and providing costumes for vespers.

With facilities unusually large for a university, the campus hospital makes ample provision for the care of the sick. The compact infirmary adequately accommodates sixty patients. The doctor visits each patient daily and is available to all students for consultation two hours each day. A registered nurse is on duty in the hospital at all times. In each of the women's dormitories is a registered nurse to care for minor injuries and illnesses which can be cured without hospitalization. Proving the extensiveness of our hospital equipment is the fact that nearly all the laboratory work is done by our capable laboratory technician on the campus. Prepared to assume the responsibility in all situations and to meet emergencies with confidence, the staff members have fulfilled their tasks competently and thoroughly.

The Fellowship News, a weekly publication edited by Dr. Bob Jones and Dr. Grace Haight, is the official organ of the Young People's Fellowship Clubs. Each week the clubs receive news from the field and a message from the International President, Marvin Lewis. To many parents and friends of the students, this paper serves as a vital point of contact with the school. In his column, "Dr. Bob Jones Says," the founder relates an event of current interest on the campus or presents unusual facts concerning the students and their activities. The editor's notes contain discussions of pertinent problems as expressed on the chapel platform. It is probably the devotional nature of the Fellowship News, however, which has endeared it to many. Brief but pungent stories, reflective poems, and numerous epigrams offer inspiration and cheer for the Christian life. Excerpts from sermons of such men as Moody and Spurgeon, along with helpful suggestions for devotional study, are included. Dr. Bob Jones, Jr., takes a short but microscopic "Look At the Book." Writing what is perhaps the favorite section in the paper, Dr. Haight reprints each week one of the old hymns with a fascinating record of its origin and author. The Fellowship News from beginning to end demonstrates its belief that "Whatever the Bible Says Is So."

LITTLE MOBY'S POST

DOROTHY HAUSER
Editor

One of the strongest ties between our alumni is the small bi-monthly periodical, Little Moby's Post. Edited by Miss Dorothy Hauser, Class of '43, the Post keeps our alumni and campus well-informed concerning one another. Changes in the curriculum and faculty, building progress, and technical advancements are of interest to the alumni. Printed regularly are the preaching itineraries of our president and founder. Campus activities are reported informally by the alumni now serving on the faculty. Familiar to every alumnus are the bits of Christian philosophy of our founder, Dr. Bob Jones, Sr. Printing several in each issue of the Post keeps before our graduates the principles learned in Bob Jones University. Out of the mail bag comes the knowledge which keeps alumni informed as to the activities of former classmates. A large portion of the Post is devoted to alumni news of marriages, births, deaths, and trivia of interest. Little Moby's Post helps to strengthen the links in the chain of Bob Jones University alumni encircling the world.

One of the least recognized groups on campus is the Waxing Crew. The shining floors, however, remind us of their industrious labors, which are seemingly never ending. Working before we awake in the morning and long after everyone has gone to bed at night, these boys have proved their loyalty to our school and their consciousness that the Christian testimony requires faithfulness in the small routine activities in life. We salute the Waxing Crew—and indispensable help in making the campus an object of our pride.

Responsible at all times for the cleanliness of our campus, the yard crew comprises one of our most industrious groups. This fact is verified by the meticulous care our campus receives. While the other students are still asleep, members of the yard crew are up and around, sweeping the walks and doing the routine ground work. Trim lawns, tidy flower beds, and well-kept shrubbery are further evidences of the never-ending duties of this group.

We commend the yard crew for its steady, conscientious work in keeping our campus clean.

MAINTENANCE

Squeaking doors, bad electrical connections, leaking pipes—present the never-ending tasks of the Maintenance Crew. On call at all times, this group constantly works, making routine repairs and meeting any emergency situations. Realizing Dr. Jones's maxim, "To avoid trouble one should have trouble," they work long hours on reconstruction to make our campus safe at all times. Because of their vigilance for necessary repairs and their efficient and immediate endeavors to mend the broken items, the Maintenance Crew well deserves the thanks we pause to extend to them.

Much of the success of every performance depends upon the work of the stage crew. Supervised by Mel Stratton, these young men erect the vast amount of scenery necessary for the University dramatic productions. Building the sets is only a part of the responsibility given to the stage crew. One remarkable phase of their work is the rapidity with which scenery is changed; in less than three minutes in total darkness this is accomplished. In addition to artistic skill, the stage crew also possesses unusual coordination and precision.

Conscious of the fact that good lighting solidifies dramatic atmosphere, our University Light Crew works diligently to create new effects and to perfect its unique achievements. The accomplishments of the crew are manifested in our Vesper program every week and in the University dramatic and operatic productions. Split-second timing is requisite for those working with the lights and the crew has many times proved its competence.

Our congratulations are to the Light Crew for an exacting task well performed.

USHERS

HARRISON and HURLSTON, Head Ushers

Supervised by George Harrison and Bill Hurlston, the thirty-four artist series ushers and thirteen regular ushers comprise one of our most capable groups. Artist series patrons and students have found these young men pleasant at all times. Chapel hour presents problems of individual seating arrangements for the student body; these are controlled skillfully by the regular ushers. Equalled by few and excelled by none, our usher corps has proved that efficiency and courtesy are an integral part of our Christian testimony.

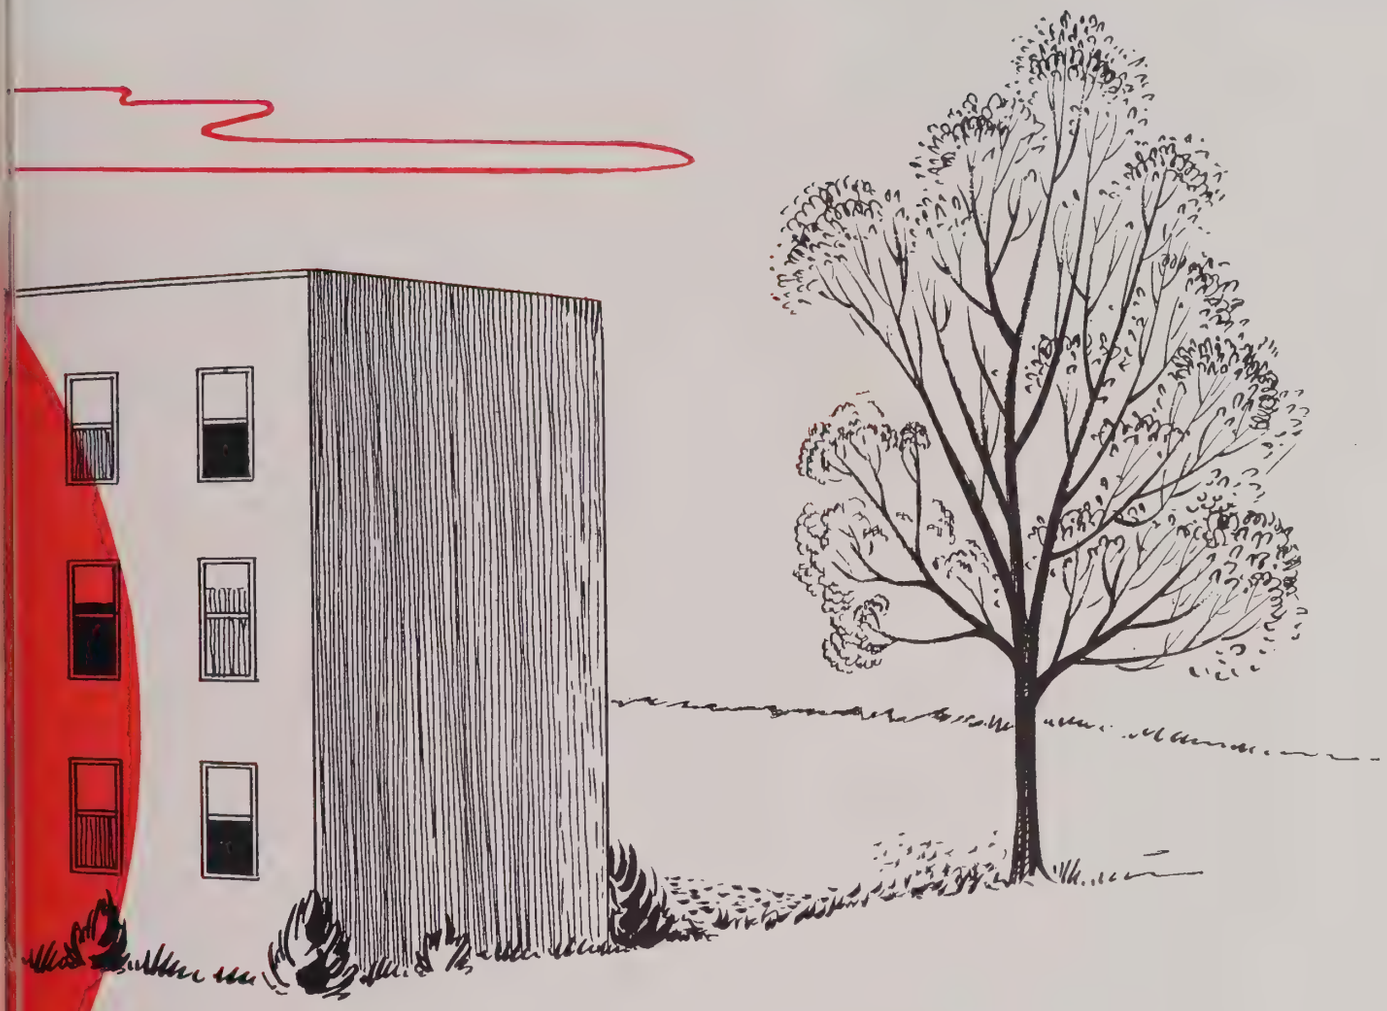

"Stand up, stand up for Jesus!
The strife will not be long;
This day the noise of battle,
The next the victor's song;
To him that overcometh
A crown of life shall be;
He with the King of Glory
Shall reign eternally."

ATHLETIC

ATHLETIC COMMITTEE

The Men's Athletic Committee, supervised by Coach Holmes, is working to make this sports year as efficient as possible.

Composed of the athletic managers from each of the sixteen societies and of the team captain of the active sport, this committee meets at least once a week to discuss problems or conflicts that might arise in the program.

"The competition is very keen and the atmosphere is really tense" seems to be the general consensus as the athletes continue to battle for the school championship. It is hard to predict the team that will achieve the athletic award this year. The trophy will be presented at the Commencement exercises to the society that totals the largest number of points for the school year.

FRED HOLMES, Coach

BOYS' ATHLETIC COMMITTEE

DEPARTMENT

WOMEN'S ATHLETIC COMMITTEE

Mix a spark of society competition with a carefully planned and efficiently operated program—and the enthusiasm for women's athletics has been kindled. With the societies themselves as a basis, the year's activities are mapped out. Teams are appointed by the societies; these in turn choose team captains. Each society also elects a sports manager to oversee its own program. Consisting of a combination of captains and sports managers, the athletic committee, directed by Miss Pope, controls directly the sports program. The student teachers of physical education do the refereeing for the games. The year is divided into four seasons: speedball, basketball, volleyball, and softball. Climaxing each season are the exciting championship and all-star games. For all those who have participated, the year is memorable for its tense moments and its hard-earned victories.

A Moment to Remember!!

B A S K E T B A L L

Basketball, the most active of the collegiate sports, stimulates more enthusiasm in the spectators than any other game. Excitement is kept at a high pitch through every moment of the game as the players dribble and pass their way up and down the floor. Extra thrills came in many of the games this year when, in the very last seconds before the final whistle, the losing team became victorious with a single basket.

STAR PLAYERS

SOFTBALL

The bats were swinging, and the pitchers were trying everything—hooks, drops, and curves—to keep the team at home plate from driving the balls out to the field. Yet the men behind the bat produced an abundance of power and accuracy and gave the outfields plenty of action for the season.

VOLLEYBALL

When the volleyball season rolls around, the tall men of the societies are eagerly solicited. The team, consisting of six members, has a great advantage if the players can easily reach above the net. Height can be an asset to a team if the coordination required by this sport is present. Many times volleyball is minimized and thought to be dull and uninteresting; but on the contrary, when it is played well, it provides action and demands precision to produce the winner.

STAR PLAYERS

BASKETBALL

This year's basketball season proved to be one of upsets and tense moments. In the majority of the games, the scores ran precariously close. Each game was a decided battle requiring fight and stamina on the part of both the victorious and the defeated.

It takes five men, working together with determination and persistence, to make a successful basketball team. Each player on the team is essential; on many occasions, however, one player is responsible for the effective defense or the scoring punch of his team. Those selected as the outstanding basketball players of the year are shown here. They have excelled both in sportsmanship and in skillful handling of the ball. Their efforts, with those of their teammates, have combined to make this a successful season.

"We've got the team, we've got the score, Come on team, let's get more." This was one of the many cheers that encouraged our basketball teams to play their very best, as the crowd urged them on to victory.

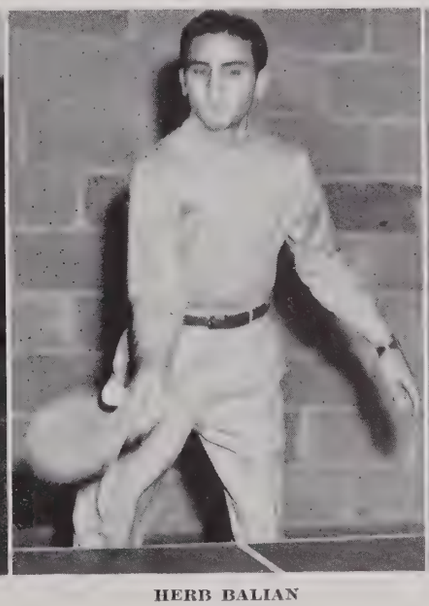

A team is very much inspired if it has a spirited, boisterous rooting section before which it can perform. The individual is challenged to exert every ounce of energy in order that his team might prove to be the champion of each contest.

HORSESHOES AND PING-PONG

Horseshoes and ping-pong are two sports that never seem to be out of season. Ping-pong, an active indoor sport, affords a pleasant fun-filled pastime. Horseshoes is largely an outdoor sport, providing plenty of activity the year round.

T E N N I S

The ten fine surfaced courts, provided for those who enjoy the game of tennis, have proved a center of interest for many tennis players this year. Although it is not a game which attracts spectators, tennis provides excitement and thrills for the enthusiastic participant. One of the chief attractions of this sport is that it gives an outlet for individual competition and demands that every effort be exerted to win.

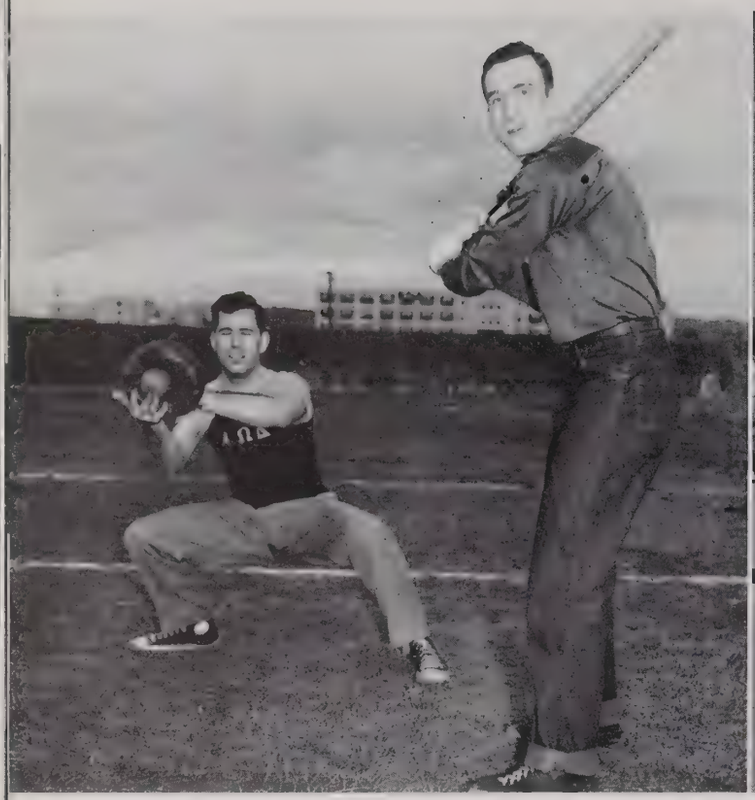

"A mile a minute"

T R A C K

Track, except for the running of the relays, is entirely an individual activity. Demanding great determination and skill, it is a sport which requires every participant to be in excellent physical condition. No specific conditioning period is demanded in our track schedule; all preparation is done, therefore, through the initiative of each individual. The skill and endurance of the contestants draw many spectators and provide for them a splendid exhibition of athletic achievement.

Did you say a strike?

No doubt about that one

Combining power, skill, accuracy, and speed, softball is one of the favorite outdoor sports.

Many exciting softball games take place on our athletic field, and the spectators are faced with the problem of which one to watch.

Much deserved credit is given to the pitchers of these teams, who consistently retire their opponents; however, it takes teamwork to produce a winning ball club.

If at first you don't succeed . . .

Just a little conference

SPORTS SIDELIGHTS

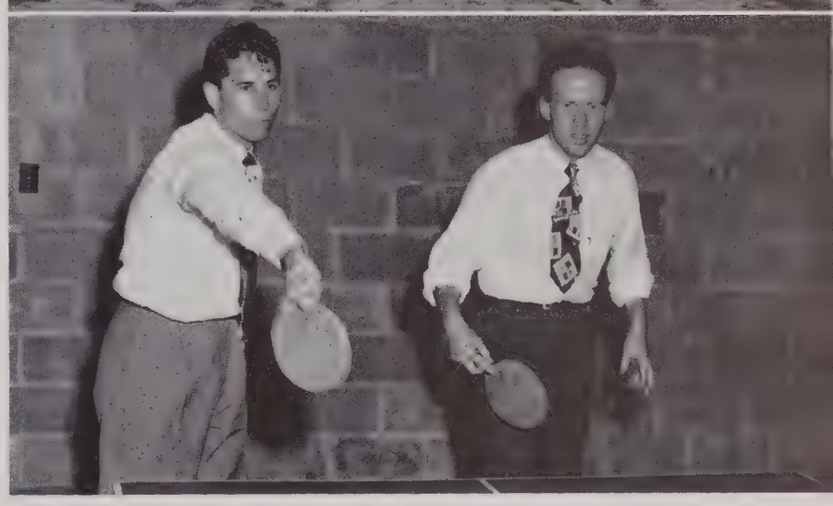

Our intramural system of sports provides an opportunity for many who have the ability, and sufficient interest, to participate in the sport of their choice. Every individual may have a different opinion as to which sport offers the most excitement and thrills, but everyone will agree that all the sports maintain an outlet for excess energy and create a pattern of competition that cannot be replaced.

The major sports, which draw the most interest, are basketball, soccer, and softball, whereas some of the minor sports are tennis, volleyball, ping-pong, horseshoes, and track. These sports provide enough variety to give everyone an equal chance to participate in some sports activity.

This year we have had many excellent contests and a fine showmanship of athletic achievement, as every society seemed to have good sportsmanship and the desire to win. It is impossible for everyone to end the season without any defeats, but every well-played game will remain a pleasant memory.

"In sorrow I wandered, my spirit opprest,
But now I am happy—securely I rest;
From morning till evening glad carols I sing,
And this is the reason: I walk with the King.

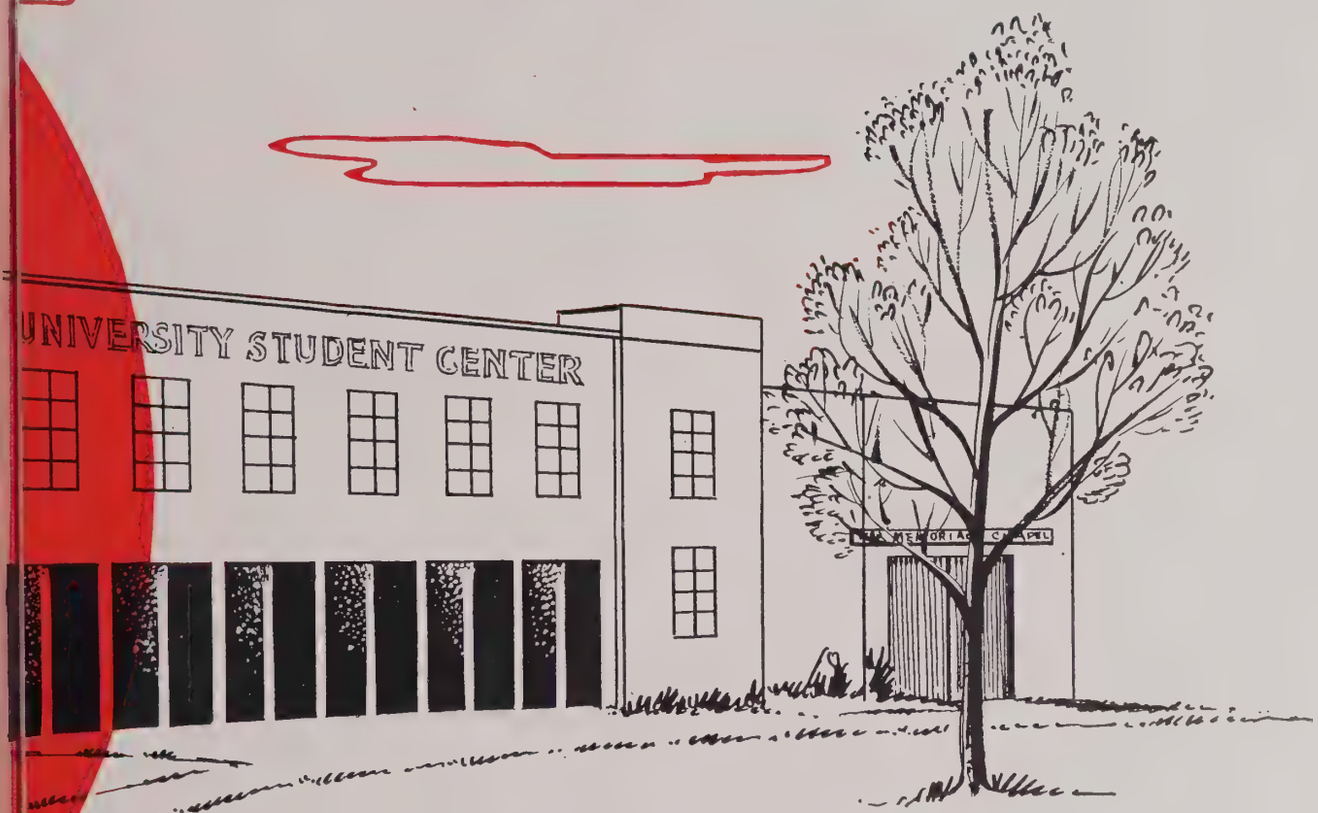

For years in the fetters of sin I was bound;
The world could not help me—no comfort I found;
But now, like the birds and the sunbeams of spring,
I'm free and rejoicing: I walk with the King."

COMMENCEMENT

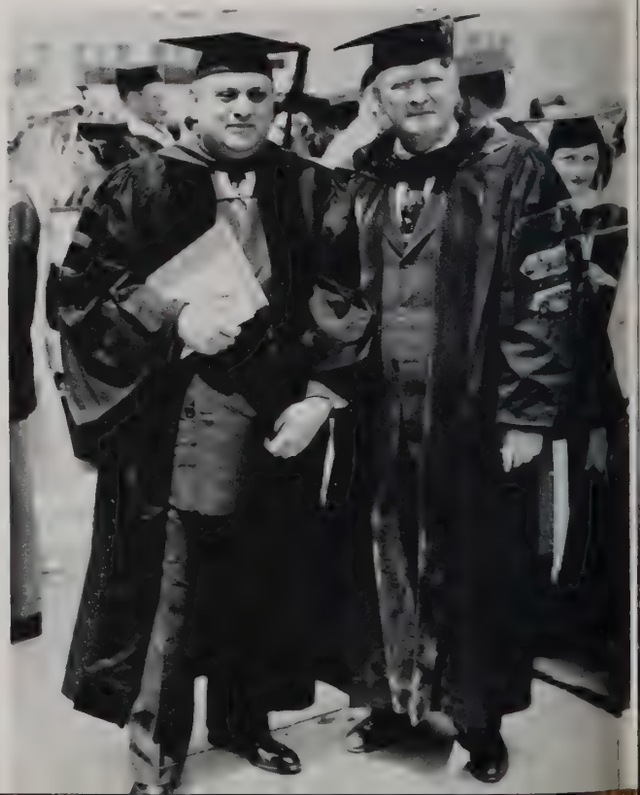

No climax to the school year could be more appropriate than that found in the traditional activities of Commencement Week. Although beginning officially on Baccalaureate Sunday, the week is previewed on Saturday evening by the Academy Commencement. Following the Baccalaureate service on Sunday morning, a request vespers, composed of the most popular numbers in the vesper programs during the year, is presented. In the evening the three outstanding sermons submitted in the Ministerial Student's Contest are delivered in the auditorium. Contests in music, speech, and art are held during the mornings and afternoons of the next two days. Providing diversion for the evenings are the University dramatic and musical productions. Convocation, with its impressive presentation of diplomas and awards and its winding academic procession, climaxes the week and culminates another school year.

Dr. Lakin, Dr. Jones, Sr.

With Commencement comes the time of separation. For the last time classmates are together as a group. Each student now has to accept individually the responsibility and challenge that the world offers. Behind are four years of working together toward a similar goal; ahead are diverging pathways leading to new places and varied occupations. Yet whether it is in the teaching profession, the business world, or the full-time Gospel ministry, each Bob Jones University graduate is expected to live in such a way as to make Christ known in a lost, sinful world. Thus, though dispersed, these graduating seniors are bound together by the unity of purpose instilled in them at Bob Jones University.
